CRITICAL REFLECTIONS AND EXPLORATIONS IN REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT: INSIGHTS FROM NORTH WEST INDIA

2018. Hardcover. Condition: New. 308 ABOUT THE BOOK:- Research on aspects of regional development in India has a long tradition. However, almost all the published works in this area seem to have overlooked the importance of focused, in depth analysis of development dynamics within a particular region. In most of the studies intra-regional comparisons have been at the center stage. Drawing inter-regional comparisons has its own advantages, but an in-depth analysis within the concerned regions seems to have taken the back seat. It is in this backdrop that an attempt has been made in the present book to focus specifically on regional development. Efforts have been made to study development dynamics in the highly diverse north western India at the disaggregated sectoral level. This book will broaden understanding of various challenges faced by the region in post reform period of high macroeconomic growth. Further, research on comparable lines in other states of the region can lead to a rich literature for fruitful policy interventions in a broader perspective. This book is intended to meet the requirements of a variety of stakeholders in policy formulation, planning and practice of Growth and Development. It will go a long way in explicating the inhibitions to inclusive development within a regional setting in general and in North-West India, in particular. Over and above this, the present volume is expected to meet the academic requirements of scholars, students and the general readers across a broad spectrum. ABOUT THE AUTHOR:- Dr. Effat Yasmin is Professor at Department of Economics, University of Kashmir, Srinagar. She has a teaching and research experience of 20 years. She has been writing on issues pertaining public finance, rural development, women empowerment, and human resource development.
